NNLM PubMed Working Group	Elaina introduced members to PMWG charge (design & update national PubMed curricula to increase training offerings to expanded audiences) and asked members to participate in an activity to ID common tasks academic librarians and their populations use PubMed for. SAG members identified: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Applying search filters and limits (nursing, systematic review limits both stressed) • Searching by institution to support NIH public access compliance (librarians doing these searches to reach out to faculty to make sure their research is compliant) • Verifying citations • Broad, topic-based research—as much on one topic as is out there • Searching for drug information as point of comparison for other resources 	Elaina will take findings to the PMWG on January 23, and will report back to SAG during spring meeting. SAG may be asked to test training modules. SAG members will poll their communities on common tasks.

NNLM Journal Club	Elaina introduced members to NNLM quarterly journal club initiative. RML staff & colleague will be reading and discussing new research in the field of health sciences librarianship every three months in 2017. Articles and class registration link shared with group.	SAG members will promote to their groups and participate if scheduling allows. Elaina will update SAG at spring meeting.
MAR Funding	Elaina updated members on remaining MAR funding. Members were encouraged to apply for and share widely the remaining available awards (professional development, health information awareness, exhibitor award, and the special Data Science & Visualization Institute for Librarians award)	SAG members will promote remaining awards to their communities and groups. Elaina will announce Year 2 funding at spring meeting.
Year 2 planning	Group discussed topics and issues on horizon for them in 2017. Systematic reviews were a big topic: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nancy Glassman pointed to Sarah Jewell and Diana Delgado's "Trials and tribulations" workshop as an example of a successful workshop on the topic • Janet Pease pointed to MAR's upcoming funded CLRC workshop on systematic reviews • Group agreed that a "formalization" of the systematic review service is increasingly popular Michelle Price encouraged librarian participation as reviewers for non-librarian journals. Additional resources mentioned: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Gene RIF function in Gene • OMIM 	Elaina will update SAG on Year 2 initiatives and goals at spring meeting.

Individual updates

- David Nolfi updated group on PCCLC initiative with MAR and MLA-PHIL. David will be adapting his allied health resource course for the April 2017 PCCLC meeting.
- Karla Block updated group on her semester happenings—weeding nursing & health collections, information literacy initiative, student projects.
